M. BOLINGER SPEAKS ON BANKS AT SOCIAL CREDIT

Another very largely attended join meeting of the Social Credit an Young People's clubs was held las week. The speakers were Mr. Bol inger and Mrs. Gostich of Calgary.

In other words they have be-e custodians of our wealth and alone have the right to issue tickets whereby we can get the goods we require.

Mr. Bolinger then went on to show Socias we require.

Mr. Bolinger then went on to show from government reports that three of the banks in Ganada control all the larger industries of this country including our railroads and inserance companies, and concluded by pointing out that these banks had contributed little or nothing to the building up of these industries in actual cash, but on the other hand, had made uncassonable profits in loaning the propies money to these industries while they were in the process of building it was in reality the people of Canada who paid for the industrial plants, that was see about us, but we own none of them, and are still obligated to pay the big profits that the banks and there industries cer making.

Another very largely attended join meeting of the Social Credit and the work of the property of the Social Credit and the work. The speakers were Mr. Bolinger and Mrs. Goatic for Calgary.

Mr. Bolinger spoke on the banking system and disclosed some very starting facts. He pointed out that whet gold began to be used as the basis of curreary, people instead of carrying this weighty metal around with them left it for each keeping with a gold the start of the gold with in these receipts was sufficient proof that the man of the gold with in these receipts was sufficient proof that the gold was in his possession. So it came about that when the receipt was oftened in payment of goods, all the dealer was concerned in was the name of the gold did not matter to him.

Goldsmiths eventually became bank instead of the owner of the gold did not matter to him.

Goldsmiths eventually became bank instead of the owners of wealth were saidling what was happening banks instead of the owners of wealth were saidling what was happening banks instead of the owners of wealth were transactions is $4 and for one prevent of the uncerned increment of four times that banks were founded on deception and it is little wonder that they was gold in the bank to the amount of four times the value of gold they have the gold with the wealth of the work of the gold is in their possession, but is a workable. walking down the aisle to the cashier's desk, when I notted a gentleman sitting at a table.
"Pardon me," I said, "you will not be offended if I ask you a question?"
"Not a bit," said he goed-naturedly.
"What part of Canada are you from?"
I queried. "How did you know I was

"You will not be offended if I tell you?" I again ventured.
"No," said he. "Well," said I, "any zations under stress, have, of late, greatly increased the demands for investment insurance and annuities. At the same time insurance companies, themselves, are faced with the very conditions, on a big scale, that are making the individual investor increasingly annuity minded. Here they can be relied upon to meet the same situation in the same competent was as in the past.

A striking fact mentioned by President Wood, in his address, is that of the $85,000,000 which the San Life Company paid out to policyholders last year, 85 per cent was in amounts of less than $2,000. That fact vividity indicates the invaluable place life insurance holds as a source of first aid to those of modest circumstances. It is, indeed, rather significent evidence that some of the problems with which governments of today are grappling, growing out of concern for those in humble station, have long sines been anticipated and provided for on a sound-scientific basis by, our insurance companies.

The general character of the report is not only satisfactory to the policyholders of the Company but encuraging to the business community at larges. The report of the Sun Life Assur- zations under stress, have, of late, are Company of Canada published greatly increased the demands for inance Company of Canada published in another column and the remarks of its president, Mr. Arthur B. Wood, in another counts and the relation, of its president, Mr. Arthur B. Wood, at its annual meeting, are gratifying evidence of an improvement of conditions. The report reflects a return of confidence and a marked trend toward recovery in business. Because of the huge investments of the life assurance companies in business meterprises covering a wide diversification of intrests, the healthier conditions in trade indicated in this resport make encouraging reading. Increases in new assurances and in repayments of policy loans, decreases in policy terminations and reduced demands for new loans—all these demonstrate that life insurance, which proved such a bulwark of strength during prelonged and trying conditions, is, in turn, keeping full pace with the forces of economic recovery.

The Major Problem

Surfeited and perplexed by the multitude of theories advanced as to the underlying and basic cause of this world economic depression, and equally surfeited and perplexed by the multitude of suggestions, ideas and plans advanced as the only means whereby the depression can be ended and a permanent cure effected, tens of thousands of people are becoming callous and skeptical of all economic doctors. More and more people are asking themselves whether this very large problem, vital to the welfare of every individual and to the very existence of the nation and the civilization of the world, is being approached from the right angle.

To an ever increasing extent people are asking whether the provision of old age pensions to prevent poverty and suffering in old age is the solution, or whether that solution is to be found in the creation of conditions whereby men and women can through their own efforts and by shift and saving make necessary provision themselves for their declaring years. Prople are inquiring whether the provision of this and that Government mainted social service to provide for their necess.—and all provided for out of Laxation.—is not merely attempting to cover up "scres" and "doctor" the patient, instead of making the patient well and capable of carring for himself. People are thinking and asking whether it is not true that, just so long as taxes are pilled upon taxes to provide for these roctial services, the very burden of those taxes is operating to make it impossible for them to take necessary care of themselves and families and make whe provision for their future.

Mankind must work and produce, and save against the time when their their nature. Mankind must work, and produce, and save against the time when their working days are over. In a word, the business of the world must be carried on, and the more business that is transacted, the more it is produced and exchanged for other products, the better it is for all concerned. Consequently, the fewer restrictions imposed upon the carrying on of the world's business, the better. This great truth is sinking deeper into the musts of men. Therefore, without further comment, we quote an editorial article appearing in one of Canada's most widely circulated magazines, a publication having no political party affiliations, but which discusses Canadian on world problems in a fair and impartial manner. Under the title appearing above, it says:

having no political party affiliations, but which discusses Canadian and woring no political party affiliations, but which discusses Canadian and problems in a fair and impartial minner. Under the title appearing of the problems in a fair and impartial minner. Under the title appearing of the problems of the problems of the conomic theories—some ancient and some modern, some untried and some exploded. Some original and some borrowed, some thriving and some still-born, some apringing like Minerva, full-armed from the head of Jupiter, others did and ecrept no longer fitted for service in a changed world, some that promise better social conditions and more enduring prosperity, and others that if followed would surely lead to anarchy and moral ruin. It may be profitted to consider some of these theories at another time. To-day it is more fitting that we should concern ourselves with a concrete problem—one that is growing to be more and more serious, and which must be solved if any of the conomic theories now advanced can be rendered workable.

"The basic industry in Canada is agriculture. The basic product in exchange is open trade. That is tacking at the rendered workable.

"The basic condition of marketing is exchange values. The basic condition of marketing. The basic condition of marketing is exchange values. The basic condition of marketing is exchange values. The basic condition of marketing is exchange values. The basic condition of marketing in a proper trade. That is tacking at the present turn. For four years we have deliberately closed the door. We have thereby encouraged courses we have deliberately closed the door. We have thereby encouraged courses we have deliberately closed the door. We have thereby encouraged courses we have deliberately closed the door. We have thereby encouraged courses we have deliberately closed the door. We have thereby encouraged courses we have deliberately closed the door. We have thereby encouraged courses we have deliberately closed of the door. We have thereby encouraged sale as that.

"It is beyond our wisdom to say which is better—to hang on to the surplus in the hope of better days, or to dump a lot on the market at greatly reduced prices in hope of clearing the way for next year's supply. That is the problem for Mr. McFariand, the government, and the farmers to settle.
"Yet it is a major problem. There is nothing to be gained by side-tracking it in discussing general economic theories. They need to be discussed without doubt but just now they are secondary. The first problem for Canada is the restoration of world trade. This means the re-writing of the tariff schedule. Is our government prepared to re-write it? Is Mr. Stevens prepared? Is the opposition?"
